

DAY 2: Thursday, May 5, 2005: 10:30-11:50 am

West Ballroom	East Ballroom	Salon 1	Salon 3	Salon 4/5
Hazards and Extremes Kenneth Johnson Land Use and Other Responses to Landscape Hazards in Northern Regions Joan Klaassen Community Vulnerability to Extreme Rainfall In Ontario: Lessons Learned from Recent Years and Implications Under Climate Change William Richards Reducing Our Vulnerability to Extreme Meteorological Events: Atmospheric Hazards in Atlantic Canada Rebecca Hanson Hurricane Juan: A Comparison of Impacts and Vulnerability: Implications for Natural Hazard Mitigation	Freshwater in the Arctic Terry Prowse Climate Change in Arctic Hydrologic Systems: A Focus on Importance to Freshwater Ecosystems Fred Wrona Climate Interactions with Arctic Freshwater Ecosystems Jim Reist Climate Change Issues in Arctic Fisheries: Arctic Char – A Key Northern Resource Heather Moquin and John Keogak Inuit Concerns of Changing Aquatic Ecosystems in Arctic Communities	Health and Vulnerable Populations David LaPlante Project Ice Storm: Effects of Prenatal Stress on Children's Physical, Cognitive and Behavioural Development Louis Jacques Connaissances, attitudes et comportements des aînés face à la chaleur accablante et la pollution de l'air Michelle Garneau Les impacts du changement climatique la productivité pollinique et la rhinite allergique à Montréal entre 1994 et 2002 Dominique Charron Canadians' Vulnerability to the Foodborne & Waterborne Diseases	Research Tools and Methods Monirul Mirza The Use of SRES Scenarios in Climate Change Impacts and Adaptation Assessments Kevin Sprague A Prototype Agent-Based Tool for Simulating Decision-Making Keith Donnelly Self-Organization and Natural Disasters Yongyuan Yin Resource System Vulnerability to Climate Change: Assessment Methodology	Tourism Brenda Jones The Vulnerability of Tourism Events in the National Capital Region to Climate Change Geoff McBoyle The Implications of Climate Change for the Ski Industry in Eastern North America Bhawan Singh Impacts of and Adaptation to Climate Change for the Golf Industry in Southern Québec Daniel Scott Climate Change Implications for Visitation to Canada's National Park